Changes to the road layout and red route controls A22 Godstone Road from Foxley Hill Road to Old Barn Lane

We are currently making changes along parts of Godstone Road from approximately the junction with Foxley Hill Road to Old Barn Lane. Working in sections we are: updating red route signs and lines; some parking and pavement areas; and, pedestrian crossings.

I wanted to provide you with an update on the progress of our work between Kenley Parade and Station Road, and also to provide you further information about the next stage of our work programme.

Our work between Kenley Parade and Station Road was due to be completed by Friday 26 March. Due to a delay during adverse weather in February, this work is now planned to finish by 1 April. Therefore, until Thursday 1 April, Station Road will remain closed at its junction with Godstone Road. Station Road between Purcell Close and Hayes Lane will also remain under temporary two-way operation to allow local diversion to access Godstone Road via Hayes Lane.

Please see page two of this letter for information about the next stages of our work, until June 2021.

How our work may affect you

Please note the following important information:

Traffic management, parking suspensions and road closures

Where we are working, Godstone Road will be reduced to a single traffic lane and managed with temporary traffic lights. On selected dates, full road closures are also required. Some pedestrian crossing points and pavement areas will also be temporarily closed, and parking spaces will be suspended. Safe, socially distanced walking routes will be provided and clearly signed at all times.

Buses

As much as possible bus route 407 will operate as normal but bus stops may be closed or temporarily relocated nearby. Check tfl.gov.uk/buses for the latest information.

Please plan ahead and allow plenty of time for your journey

Future stages of work

We are working with the London Borough of Croydon and other key stakeholders to reduce local disruption by co-ordinating the remainder of our work with planned major utility work this summer. We will write again with dates for future stages in late May and June in due course.

Work will include:

- Zebra crossing improvements close to the Godstone Road junction with Foxley Hill Road;
- Road resurfacing; and
- Remaining red route lines and signs
